Research & Publications:

We are saddened to publish this post-humous celebration of our dear colleague and fellow of the ABPsa, Sheila Hafter Grey's, MD 2022 publications in Psychodynamic Psychiatry. Dr. Grey reached out to ABPsa late last year with news about her two upcoming publications, and we planned to announce her achievement early this year. So it is with a heavy heart that we share her last contributions to our field.

Johnson S, Hulse, T, Gray, SH. Comparing Psychoanalytic Process in Consulting Room and Videoconference: a Naturally Occurring Controlled Experiment, Psychodynamic Psychiatry, forthcoming, 2022.

Gray SH, Candilis P, Howe EG, Fallon TF, Gennaro KG, Nesheim R, van Loon J. Assessing patients who seek help ending their lives, Psychodynamic Psychiatry, forthcoming, vol. 50, no. 3, 2022.

Philip J. Candilis, MD, DFAPA, Chair, Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry Committee on Professionalism and Ethics, and her collaborator on the second publication listed above noted about Sheila: "She was an inspiration; deeply committed to the public sector, and a font of knowledge. As long-time chair of GAP's Committee on Professionalism and Ethics she had a significant impact on the ethics discourse in Psychiatry."
